About the Project

Robbie Quinn has recorded a collection of 11 songs for art teachers to use with their students. These songs, ranging in content from color theory to the elements of art, are composed in a variety of musical styles to appeal to younger children while being listenable for adults. Robbie has designed these songs to be used as introductory lessons for teaching art content that may help students get “hooked” into the subject matter through fun and entertaining ways. Some of the songs have been accentuated through hand motions that students can do as they sing. In this way, a wide range of learning styles can be accommodated for effective classroom instruction.

What People are Saying about Artsongs

“I totally loved the songs...the kids are loving the CD”

–Allison Hall, Art Specialist, Lorraine Elementary School

“Using Robbie Quinn's CD "Art Songs" has changed the way I teach in my art room. Now when I go into color with my 1st through 5th grade students, it is not just a boring walk to the bulletin board to point and talk about the color wheel. Now there is music to go along. My students have an understanding of warm and cool colors, the color wheel, the elements of art and sculpture like they've never had. They ask for Robbie's CD by name!”

–Patricia C. Spencer, Art Specialist, Harmony Elementary School
